General IRA Update

President Trump signed into law the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act on December 22, 2017, and the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018 on February 9, 2018. There are changes for both new laws which are effective in 2018. These changes will be discussed as will the rollover IRA changes that have occurred in the last 1-3 years. Also discussed will be possible IRA changes as proposed in the Retirement Plan Simplification Enhancement Act. The following topics will be discussed.

1. Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018
2. The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act
3. Disaster Tax Relief Act and Airports Extension Act of 2017
4. Changes Impacting Rollovers
 - Self-Certification Later Rollover Procedure
 - Rolling Over After-Tax Basis - How to Do it
 - SIMPLE IRA Rules
 - The Once Per 365 Day Rule
5. Roth IRA Conversions and Related Planning
6. 2019 IRA Limits
7. 2018-2019 IRA Amendments
8. Brief Discussion - 2018 Form 5498
9. Possible Proposed IRA Law Changes in 2018 and 2019
10. Distributions to a Roth IRA Beneficiary
11. 2017-2018 Reporting of Hard to value Assets
12. Miscellaneous

Special Note: We believe that an institution should not attend both the IRA Update webinar and the Rollover/Transfer webinar as both contain extensive discussion of rollover and transfers. There is much duplication.

A Surviving Spouse's Options with Respect to Their Spouse's IRA

A surviving spouse will generally want to treat their deceased spouse's IRA as their own. IRA. Learn the proper administrative procedures for the spouse to make this election. There are special RMD calculations to be performed if the deceased spouse and surviving spouse are subject to the RMD rules. There are exceptions, though, when the spouse will wish to maintain the IRA as an inherited IRA. Illustrations are furnished indicating the adverse consequences of when a spouse fails to elect to treat their spouse's IRA as his or her own IRA in some situations.

Inherited IRAs for Non-Spouse Beneficiaries

Inherited IRA questions and situations are more prevalent. Special tax rules and procedures apply to inherited IRAs. Learn how an inherited IRA is established, administered, titled and what IRS reporting is required. Learn how to assist with an inherited IRA and what happens once the first beneficiary dies.

Learn how to establish and administer HSA inherited 401(k) funds from a parent, sibling or a daughter or son.

Learn special considerations when the IRA beneficiary is a trust or an estate.

Learn the interplay between an inherited IRA and the QCD rules and the qualified HSA funding rules.

Understanding Transfers, Direct Rollovers and Rollovers to IRAs and From IRAs.

It is very important that IRA personnel and other personnel be able to assist clients confidently and competently with their 401(k) IRA direct rollovers and rollovers. Making mistakes at the very least will be embarrassing and in some cases will be quite costly. All IRA custodians/trustees want to minimize their mistakes.

Basics of Traditional IRAs - Establish/Contribution

Review the rules for establishing and administering traditional IRA contributions. CWF will walk you through the required documentation for establishing IRAs on a line-by-line basis, illustrating the requirements regardless of whose forms are used. Contribution eligibility, limits and exceptions will be thoroughly reviewed.

Basics of Traditional IRAs - Distributions

Session #2 reviews IRA distributions - IRS reporting codes, federal tax withholding, qualified distributions, qualified HSA funding distributions, rollovers out, transfers out, and required distributions for both accountholders and beneficiaries.

Basics of Roth IRAs - Establish/Contribution

Session # 1 focuses on establishing and making contributions to a Roth IRA. The special rules applying to Roth IRAs will be explained. All types of contributions will be discussed: annual, conversion, recharacterization, rollovers in from 401(k) plans, rollovers in from IRAs, transfers and death gratuities. The special IRS Reporting tasks are covered.

Basics of Roth IRAs - Distribution

Session 2 focuses on the many types of Roth IRA distributions and the reporting to be done by the accountholder or the beneficiary. The special rules applying to Roth IRA distributions will be explained, especially death distributions, qualified distributions, recharacterizations and withdrawal of excess contributions.

Basics of HSAs

Learn everything you need to know about HSA establishment and administration of HSAs in 2018 and 2019. See what documentation is required and whose responsibility it is to determine eligibility. HSA reporting is very different from IRA reporting and must use the proper HSA forms, not the IRA forms and codes.

Roth IRA Conversions and Nondeductible Traditional IRA Contributions

The primary purpose of the webinar is to cover the basic rules and procedures for a person to make a Roth IRA conversion contribution. What must the IRA owner do and what does the IRA custodian/trustee do?

A person wants as much money as possible in a Roth IRA. It is only a matter of time before more individuals realize this financial truth. These conversion accounts can be very long term accounts for a financial institution.

Commencing with 2018 a person is no longer able to recharacterize a Roth IRA conversion contribution. Once it is made it is irrevocable.

The second purpose of the webinar is to illustrate how individuals may benefit by making more nondeductible traditional IRA contributions so that one day such contributions may be converted into a Roth IRA.

All IRA personnel should understand the tax rules for Roth IRA conversion contributions.

IRA Trust personnel should definitely know these rules as the IRA grantors should be more frequently considering when and if a Roth IRA conversion contribution should be made. It is important that various timing rules be understood.
